

Monday, October 12, 2009

Director to lead training partnership

EDWARDSVILLE – Madison County Employment and Training Department announced that its executive director, David Stoecklin, has been elected president of the Illinois Workforce Partnership, the statewide association of directors of the workforce development system.

Stoecklin has worked in the workforce development system for 35 years. Locally he serves on the board of the Madison-Bond Workforce Investment Board, the board of the Southwestern Illinois Division of the United Way, the Edwardsville Planning Commission, the board of Commerce of Southwestern Madison County, as well as other boards and committees.

He lives in Edwardsville with his wife, Wanda, and son.